Nov. 22 1742

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26. 1742.

Frankfort, Oct. 24.

HE Day before Yesterday we celebrated with great Magnificence the Anniversary of the Empress's Birth-day, who then enter'd the 42d Year of her Age. In the Morning, at Noon, and in the Evening, we discharged 100 Pieces of Cannon, from our Ramparts, all the Bells rung from Eleven till Noon, the Garison and Train'd Bands were under Arms. The Emperor and Empress heard Divine Service in our Cathedral, and afterwards dined in Publick. We continue to make Levies in the Neighbourhood of this City for the Service of his Imperial Majesty, and the King of Prussia, and with great Success. Our last Advices from Bavaria are far from being agreeable; It appears, that the Austrians are about to assemble a new Army in that Country, sufficient to dispossess Marshal Seckendorff of Munich. What most surprizes us is, that the Court shews little or no Apprehension, but continues its Preparations for removing from hence to Munich, which is a Mystery we cannot penetrate.

Breslau, Oct. 16. Count Munchow Minister of State and of War arrived here Yesterday from Glogaw. He was splendidly entertained by Cardinal Sintendorff. The same Day arrived the Count de Richcourt, heretofore Minister from his Royal Highness the Duke of Tuscany to the States-General, who is now going to reside at Berlin as Envoy from the Queen of Hungary. It is generally reported here, and indeed as generally believed, that the Treaty not long ago signed in this City, will be made the Basis of a new Alliance, for settling the Balance of Power in Europe, and obliging a certain imperious Potentate to leave the rest of the World in quiet. It is also given out that some great Powers will accede thereto, little thought of at present by the World, in this Light at least. His Majesty has actually given Orders for assembling 30,000 Men, which are to march directly into Bohemia.

Hamburg, Oct. 23. We have some strange Reports here from Sweden, as if General Bodenbrock would become a Victim to Publick Clamour; that is, be sentenced to lose his Head, and keep it thro' the King's Mercy. The same Letters add, that it was much doubted whether the Difficulties which had arisen would not oblige the Dyet to rise without doing any Thing of Importance. Our last Letters from Bohemia assure us, that the Austrian Hussars had beat up several of Marshal Broglie's Quarters, and had killed Abundance of Men; so that the Marshal had been oblig'd to re-assemble his Troops in the Circle of Leutmaritz, in order to return to Prague; and if this should prove impracticable, it is said he will leave his Troops under the Command of the eldest Lieutenant-General, and retire to Dresden with a strong Escort— for fear the Hussars should strip him a second time of his Breeches.

Remainder of the Letter from Paris, inserted in our last.

It was not without much Consideration, that the Court resolv'd to send Marshal Maillebois with his Forces into Germany. It was a Measure oppos'd by some of the wisest of our Politicians; and the Argument which determin'd the Council in its Favour, was the Appearance of its producing the wished for Effect, without coming to Extremities; it being believed, that the Court of Vienna would grant an honourable Capitulation to the French Marshals in Prague, on the first News of Maillebois's moving towards Bohemia. But as they had been often deceived in their Sentiments before, so the Ministry found themselves miserably out in their Conjectures on this Occasion. It was the Beginning of September before Cardinal Fleury could engage Mr. Stainville in any Negotiation, and on the 15th of the same Month the Court deliver'd him the Declaration inclosed; which induc'd him to send back his Courier to the Grand Duke on the 16th, accompanied by another Courier charged with Dispatches from the Court of France to the Marshals Broglie and Belleisle. Upon the Arrival of these Couriers in the Camp of the Great Duke at Plana, his Royal Highness absolutely refused to let the Frenchman go a Step farther; and the utmost Favour he would be brought to shew him, was to permit him to retire to Marshal Maillebois, till such time as Mr. Stainville's Courier proceeded to Vienna, and brought back her Hungarian Majesty's Orders. He did so; and the Result of the whole Matter, was that the Queen of Hungary refused the Courier Passage to Prague, and in consequence rejected the Propositions made by our Court in the following Paper.

Copy of the French Court's Declaration to M. Stainville, Sept. 15. 1742.

It is more than a Month since the Resolution taken by the King of sending a new Army into Germany was made publick, and it consequently depended entirely on the Court of Vienna to have put a Stop to that March, and to the Effusion of Blood at Prague, in case of her being at all dispos'd to pacifick Measures. The King finding himself under Necessity, from the Silence of the Court of Vienna, to suffer the Continuance of the March of Marshal Maillebois' Army, which is now in its 37th Day's March, and on the Frontiers of Bohemia, his Majesty and the Emperor may justly look upon themselves as free from all Promises, and disengag'd from all former Offers. His Majesty however, preferring Peace to all other Considerations, has made no Difficulty of accepting the Propositions made to him by the Marquis de Stainville in the Name of the Great Duke. His Majesty flattering himself that he shall meet with no Opposition on the Part of the Emperor, but that on the Offer of Restitution and peaceable Possession of Bavaria, and the Evacuation of the City of Passau, he will be content to demand the Evacuation of Bohemia, since it belongs only to the Head of the Empire to engage his Majesty to order his Troops to repass the Rhine. It is to be hoped that the Court of Vienna will be convinced of the Truth of these Reflections; and as the Moments are precious, and there can be nothing of greater Importance than to prevent any Change in Circumstances which may render a Reconciliation more difficult than it is at present, his Majesty has been pleas'd this very Day to address his Orders and Instructions to the Marshals Broglie and Belleisle, [if the Courier may be permitted to carry them] directing them to regulate every thing in relation to the Evacuation of Bohemia by the Army now in Prague; provided that like Orders on the Part of the Queen of Hungary, for the Restitution and peaceable Possession of Bavaria, and Evacuation of the City of Passau, be put into the Hands of the said Marshals, who shall send them to M. Maillebois, who will take care to convey them immediately to Count Kevenhuller. His Majesty farther promises, that Marshal Maillebois shall have immediate Orders to discontinue his March, or to quit Bohemia in case he has already enter'd it, upon his having Advice from the Marshals Broglie and Belleisle that these Points are settled. His Majesty most sincerely desires that these Preliminaries may shortly lead to a solid and general Peace, to which he of all things inclines by any Means to contribute.

This fine-spun Declaration sufficiently shews the Temper of the Ministry, and how diffident they were of Maillebois's carrying all before him. But, however, the Honour of France was engag'd, and he was oblig'd to march on. In the mean time, the Ministers of a certain Foreign Court represented at Vienna, the Wisdom of remaining firm, and the Advantages as well as Glory that would result to the House of Austria, by baffling this last Effort of France; promising at the same Time to make such Dispositions in the Low Countries, as should render it impossible to send any Reinforcements to Maillebois, tho' the Necessity of it should appear ever so evident to the French Court. This determin'd the Queen of Hungary to act as she did, and thus we have the Mortification to see ourselves defeated in Politicks, by a Nation we knew long ago capable of defeating us in every thing else. We at present amuse ourselves with fitting out Privateers, to alarm the Trading Part of that Nation; but alas this is far from quieting the Apprehensions of our own Merchants, who know very well, that by the very manning these Privateers, and our Ships of War, tho' their Trade may be hurt, ours must be utterly done; and that Commerce which cost the late King and his Ministry so much Pains and so much Time to create, will be annihilated all at once.

Dr. BATEMAN's Original and ONLY TRUE Wholesale and Retail WAREHOUSE at the Printing-Office, facing the South Door of Bow-Church, the Lower End of the Church-Yard, from Cheap-side, LONDON.

THE Daily Success which has constantly attended the Taking Dr. BATEMAN's PECTORAL DROPS, in the several Distempers of Colds, Coughs, Pains in the Breast, Limbs, and Joints; has gain'd them so universal a Character, that few Families care to be without them in their Houses. Besides the Distempers above-mentioned, there is no one Medicine, since the Discovery of the Art of Physick, that will give a Speedier Relief and Ease in all Rheumatic Pains, Gout, Stone, Gravel, Cholick, Fluxes, &c. Innumerable Instances might be given of the Happy Effects thereof, but we choose to refer to a Book, call'd, A Short Treatise of the Virtues of Dr. BATEMAN's PECTORAL DROPS, given Gratis, at the Warehouse above-said; where all Shop-keepers, &c. in any City, Town, or Village, where these Drops are not already Sold, may be supplied, with good Allowance to sell again, by Directing or Sending to the PATENTEE,

BENJAMIN ORELL,
Wm. and CLUER DICEY.

The Surprising Encouragement, which by constant Success, these most Valuable Drops have, for upwards of Twenty Years, met with, not only in Great Britain and Ireland, but in all Parts of the West-Indies, and other Foreign Countries; has lately induced several mean and mercenary Pretenders to Counterfeit them; and by imitating our Seal, Bill of Directions, and Show-Boards, with our Method of Advertising, as near as they can or dare to do, without making them the same; thereby impose their dangerous Compositions upon the unwary and credulous Shop-keepers both in Town and Country, for the True and Genuine Sort.

The PATENTEE and Company therefore, in Gratitude for the universal good Reception they have so long met with, and for the Safety of those who for the future may be desirous of using the same, think themselves absolutely obliged to give this necessary Caution,

Which they earnestly request may be observed,

THAT the Bottle they Buy is not only Sealed with the Boar's Head, but has also these Words round it, BY THE KING'S PATENT, as in the Margin; and also that the Names of the PATENTEE, BENJ. ORELL, William and Cluer Dicey, be in the Bill of Directions given with each Bottle; without which you may be assur'd it is a notorious Counterfeit, and may be of the most dangerous Consequence.

N.B. That these DROPS are also Sold Retail (as well as Wholesale) at the Warehouse aforesaid, at One Shilling the Bottle, containing three Dozes.

This Day is publish'd, (Price 6d.)

VII. A Collection of VOYAGES and TRAVELS, in Six Vols. Folio, with a great Number of Copper-Plates, curiously engraved.

The most Delightful Fragrant TINCTURE for the Breath, Teeth and Gums.

AT once using makes the BREATH most charmingly fine, sweet, and pleasant, the Teeth perfectly white, clean and beautiful, and is the most certain Cure for the SCURVY in the Gums in the World.

It infallibly preserves the Breath, Teeth and Gums in their utmost Beauty and Perfection, if they are no Ways disorder'd, and if they are, immediately rectifies all their Defects; for the same Minute it is used it makes the most offensive Breath smell incomparably fine and charming, and in a short Time effectually cures, that disagreeable Breath will not return.

It instantly makes the blackest and most foul Teeth extremely white and delicately beautiful; infallibly preserves them from decaying, and those a little decay'd from becoming worse; absolutely cures the Scurvy in the Gums, be it ever so inveterate, causing the Flesh to grow up to the Teeth again, when almost eaten quite away, and assuredly fastens loose Teeth to Admiration. It is to be used but a few Drops at a Time, is exceedingly pleasant, and leaves a very grateful and delectable Flavour in the Mouth.

In a Word, for most delightfully performing, and quickly curing an ill-scented Breath, for immediately making the blackest Teeth most excellently white, certainly fastening them when loose, effectually preserving them from rotting or decaying, and infallibly curing the Scurvy in the Gums, it has not its Equal in the Universe, as all the Quality and principal Gentry, who use it acknowledge.

It is to be had only at Mr. Radford's Toyshop, at the Rob and Crown against St. Clement's Church-yard in the Strand, at 3s. 6d. a Bottle, with Directions.
